

Encompass World Partners

When God called her to ministry, Kate didn't know what she was supposed to do, only that she wanted to use her life to point others to Christ. She connected with Encompass and joined church planters in London where she discovered a way she could use her passion for video to advance God's Kingdom. "When something you're passionate about aligns with a way that you can serve Christ or reach people in His name, it's indescribable," she says. Praise God for giving us passions we can use to share Him with others. Praise Him for all the unique ways we can be used for the kingdom.

Julio and Joanne serve in Long Beach, California. Julio is excited that one of his Japanese friends gave his life to Christ. "I felt you deeply accepted me," this friend said. "You made me feel I wanted to know Jesus better because you who cheered and loved me all the time kept saying, 'Jesus is a great guy.'" Praise God with Julio for this new life and for the people who have given to make his ministry here possible. Praise Him that in a field where there is very little fruit, God is at work and He reminds us of His power to save. "If God brought my family and me to California just for this guy," Julio says, "it's been completely worth it."

CIDEL (Center International for the Development of Ethical Leadership) helps Central African leaders in the church, education, and government spheres build their minds, hearts, and characters to be more like Christ. Recently, CIDEL partnered with the State University of Bangui, and the university's rector and vice chancellor asked CIDEL to organize a training series for its teachers, students, and administrators in various departments. In December, the university awarded CIDEL's executive director with a Doctor Honoris Causa! Praise God for this recognition and for this partnership.
